From the Pastor's desk at Cross Lutheran Church-NALC,

At the start of each new year, many have observed a tradition of making new resolutions as a way to “ring out the old and ring in the new.” In this sense, the definition of the word, ‘resolution,’ is to make a firm decision to do or not to do something. Can you remember the resolutions you made around this time last year? Were you able to keep them?

I made a promise to myself last year to study my Biblical Greek at least once a week to be more fluent in my reading and speaking Koine or “common” Greek. Sounds pretty exciting, doesn’t it? I did quite well with this resolution for the first two weeks of the year, but even with my best intentions, it fizzled! Looking back, I think it became difficult because I studied by myself. Studying by yourself is about as exciting as exercising and lifting weights by yourself. (By the way, exercising and lifting weights was one of my unsuccessful New Year’s resolutions in the early 90s!)

For example, if you were to make a New Year’s resolution to attend church worship services every Sunday for a whole year, that would be a wonderful promise! But what if you were the only one sitting in the church each week. Alone, you may do quite well the first couple of weeks, but eventually after sitting by yourself, your willpower would weaken without the support and interaction of others. Praying out loud and singing hymns may not be something that you would look forward to doing all by yourself each week.

But what if the parishioners of Cross Lutheran Church were to gather together to make just one resolution? One firm decision together that would point our enthusiasm and excitement as a church body in one direction while fueling our individual energies as the church that Christ intended. I believe through the support, interaction, and gifts we each possess, Cross Lutheran Church could follow through in “making a firm decision to do or not to do something!”

In his book, God at Work, Gene Edward Veith writes, “In God’s design, each person is to love his or her neighbors and to serve them with the gifts appropriate to each vocation. This means that I serve you with my talents, and you serve me with your talents...From the beginning... God ordained that we be in relationships. He ordained that we need each other...we are all in this together.”

Once again, we are blessed with a New Year in which to move forward one day at a time together in the name of Christ. Yes, we are all in this together! So what are your thoughts? How can we move forward this year combining our talents, skills, treasures, and discipleship resolving to work together in our church and community? We begin by praying for God’s guidance and then, together we resolve to...

“And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose.” (Romans 8:28)

In His Service, Pastor Glenn Sokolowski

A Very Happy December To All! I hope this finds everyone well and enjoying time with loved ones. Our time in Middle School has been a busy one over the last few months but also a time of growth. As the are learning new things and given challenges they are making an effort to put others first. The school theme this year is "Work Together" and every student is looking for ways to do this even when things don't always fo as planned. We recently had the Christmas Fair which was such a fun afternoon for the kids. There were so many wonderful items for the kids to surprise family with and they had a great time working together to find the perfect gift. It has been a great beginning to another school year and it is going to be exciting to see how each and every student continues to grow throughout the rest of the year.

A Report from the Quilters of Cross Lutheran Church

This is our 2021 year-end final tally of items sent to the NALC Disaster Response:

- ♥ We shipped 218 quilts and blankets, 48 baby sets consisting of a receiving blanket, 2 burp clothes, 2 onsies.
- ♥ We also sent numerous stuffed animals, stocking hats, (over 60) and some Bibles that were donated.

Much of the material, batting, and incidentals were donated. We also used Thrivent money for much of the shipping as well as some money donated during coffee hour that we served.

The rest is the time and efforts by ladies of our church. Cross Lutheran Church member Dolores Elftman still cuts blocks for us. Her family makes sure she has material and delivers the cut blocks back to us. Another lady who likes the project, although not a member of Cross Lutheran Church, has volunteered to help. We feel privileged to do this work and enjoy the fellowship we share. This is an awesome effort, and we hope others have learned more about it. Perhaps others would like to join us or volunteer to help in some way.

Sincerely,
The Quilters of Cross Lutheran Church
